

Announcement

New Double Swing Hinge and Emergency Release Stops for Healthcare Environments

ASSA ABLOY now offers two styles of double swing hinges and two styles of emergency release stops. The new Markar Double Swing Hinge features a pin and barrel style hinge. The existing Pemko Double Swing Hinge features a gear style hinge. Both double swing hinge styles have a unique 100° swing that allows the door to swing in either direction.

We also have two models of the Pemko Emergency Release Stops available. The existing model features a special flush bolt, and the new model features a multipoint latch. Both models provide the functionality to release the stop in an emergency situation, allowing the door to be opened in the opposite direction. The stops are used on the strike edge of the door and come standard with hospital tip to complete the solution.

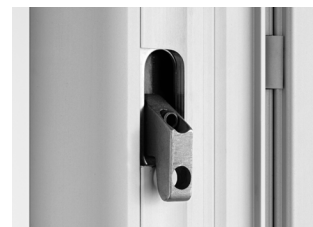

For additional information, contact your local sales representative, ASSA ABLOY Door Security Solutions Representative, or call 800-824-3018.
